

The 6th Annual Swiss Institute for Desert Environment and Energy Research
Graduate Students Symposium

6th SIDEER SYMPOSIUM

SEDE BOQER CAMPUS OF BEN GURION UNIVERSITY, MARCH 11-13, 2014

EXPLORING REAL WORLD NETWORKS FROM GENES TO ECOSYSTEMS

Attending Speakers

Iain Couzin
Princeton University
USA

Bernd Blasius
University of Oldenburg
Germany

Neo Martinez
University of Arizona
(video lecture)

And leading researchers from Israel and abroad

This year's symposium offers a multidisciplinary view to the understanding of networks in science and society, and the use of network analysis to understand complex system dynamics.

We invite interested speakers to submit a short abstract (up to one page)
Topics include, but not limited to, the areas stated herein:

Computer networks

Epidemiological networks

Evolutionary networks

Neural networks

Ecological interaction networks

Social networks

Systems biology

Complex systems

Genetic networks

Submit abstracts to: ider.grads@gmail.com by December 27th.
Abstracts will be assessed by the scientific committee of the symposium.
Indicate whether you prefer to present a poster or an oral presentation.
Please note that oral presentation slots availability is very limited.
